COLD WAVE BRINGS SUFFERING IN ITS WAKE

COLDEST IN NEW YORK SINCE ERA KNICKERBOCKERS

SUNDAY WAS THIRD COLDEST DECEMBER DAY IN CITY IN 50 YEARS

15 PERSONS DIED WITHIN 24 HOURS INHALING ILLUMINATING GAS

(By United Press)
New York, Dec. 29.—One man was frozen to death, scores were suffering from exposure and institutions of refuge were crowded with homeless persons as the city shivered in one of the coldest December mornings on record here today.

Yesterday was the third coldest December day New York City has experienced in half a century. Threatened zero weather did not develop, but the thermometer dropped as low as 12 above and stood at 15 above at 7 a. m. today. Temperatures as low as 20 were registered in the Adirondacks.

Rising temperatures were forecast for today and it was expected it would be still warmer today.

The man frozen to death was found huddled under a stairway in a tenement house, where he had gone in search of shelter.

It was feared two men may have been lost in a speed boat taken in tow early Saturday by a coast guard cutter off Ambrose Light. The boat, which members of the crew said was a fishing craft, parted its tow rope mysteriously and the captain of the coast guard cutter accused the two men left aboard of having cast off deliberately. The men on board were Chester McCarl, Freeport, L. I., and Anthony McCarty of Sheepshead Bay. Fifteen persons died within 24 hours from inhaling illuminating gas this week-end, and five others were in hospitals, their lives saved by prompt action of police.

The cold wave was held responsible in most instances, although investigation of possible wholesale suicides has been ordered in the case of the family of John Horricks of Brooklyn. Horricks' wife, brother-in-law and two daughters were found dead in a room which had been sealed hermetically. Gas was pouring from open jets. Horricks himself died in a hospital Sunday.

SLOWLY WARMING UP IN ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Dec. 29.—It was slowly warming up in this section today after nearly three weeks of frigid weather.

Sunday witnessed the end of the cold wave here, at least temporarily, the weather bureau reported. Officially it was 19 below zero. The weather bureau thermometer is 18 stories up in the air and thermometers on the street below registered 23 below.

It was slightly below zero early today and there were snow flurries before daybreak.

THIRD COLD WAVE GRIPS MICHIGAN

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 29.—One man froze to death within a few feet of his home, and scores of fires from overheated stoves kept the fire department answering calls during the night as the third cold wave gripped Michigan today.

The coldest point in the state was Humbolt, 30 miles from Marquette in the upper peninsula, where the mercury fell to 50 below zero.

BACKBONE OF WAVE BROKEN

St. Paul, Dec. 29.—The cold wave was broken today after the climax Sunday which brought the coldest December weather in eight years.

The minimum temperature was 22.8 below. Today the thermometer soared above zero mark and 5 to 10 above was predicted for tomorrow.

FIRES CHARGED TO BANDITS BURN NINE BUILDINGS

(By United Press)
Pottsville, Pa., Dec. 29.—Fire believed to have been set by bandits destroyed nine buildings in downtown Pottsville early this morning.

Overturned safes in some of the structures led police to believe bandits had robbed them, then fired the town, as bandits did at Valley View, Pa., recently.

The loss was estimated at $150,000.

CONGRESS TO DO LITTLE WORK DURING HOLIDAYS

UNDER GENTLEMAN'S AGREEMENT NO BUSINESS UP THIS WEEK

FIGHT OVER MUSCLE SHOALS AND POSTAL PAY RATES GOES OVER TO NEXT MONDAY

(By United Press)
Washington, Dec. 29.—Congress came back from its Christmas holiday today, but under a gentleman's agreement no business will be transacted this week if it can be avoided.

The fight over Muscle Shoals and postal pay rates will go over until next Monday.

The House plans to go immediately into the appropriation measures. The Senate may spend a few days considering unobjectionable minor bills on the calendar before adjourning for New Year's day and the week-end.

The situation after the week's rest is little changed. Those senators who are championing the Coolidge plan of paying a $68,000,000 raise in salaries to postal employees by increasing postal rates are preparing to conclude their committee hearings and report the bill to the Senate. This will be done before the end of the week. The plea of the publishers to postpone action upon the administration bill has been rejected.

The drift away from the Underwood Muscle Shoals bill still is apparent, and republican leaders believed it will be defeated and the Jones plan of referring the Shoals problem to a commission adopted.

With debate cut by leaders to the minimum to expedite its passage, the House today was scheduled to consider the Treasury and postoffice appropriation bills.

as a direct result of the frigid blasts. Scores were taken to hospitals suffering injuries.

Temperatures fell to 12 below in Chicago and 20 below in the suburbs. Chicago's fire department answered 358 fire alarms in less than 24 hours, most of the blazes caused by overheated stoves and furnaces. Several firemen were injured, and the loss of property caused by fire alone will run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Two men were shot and slightly wounded by an enraged janitor when they demanded more heat in their apartment.

Rescue crews started from Chicago early today in an effort to release the lake steamer Wisconsin, bound in ice since Saturday morning off Holland, Mich. Sixty persons, including crew and passengers, were reported suffering aboard the ship. Several smaller lake craft were also reported in danger.

Suffering in the tenement district was reported acute. Hundreds of calls for relief were made on county and city officials and many complaints of poorly heated apartments were reported. Several frost-bitten victims of "moonshine" were picked up and lodged in police cells.

Train schedules throughout the middle west, especially on lines west and north of Chicago were knocked out by the cold. Sleet and snow covered rails added to the difficulties and many trains were as much as 12 hours late in reaching Chicago from Omaha, Kansas City and St. Paul.

NATIONAL LEADERS ON PROGRAM OF FARM BUREAU

BIGGEST CONVENTION IN HISTORY OF STATE ASSOCIATION OPENED TODAY

PRESIDENT J. F. REED REVIEWS DEVELOPMENT OF AGRICULTURE

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Dec. 29.—National agricultural leaders were among those on the program as the biggest convention in the history of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation opened today.

Sessions today were held at the Minnesota Farm School near the fair grounds. Business sessions tomorrow and Wednesday will be held in the house chamber at the state capitol.

J. F. Reed, president of the federation, reviewed the development of agriculture and pointed out the universal interest taken in the problems of the farmer. As a result of education, organization and cooperation, the percentage of successful farmers has greatly increased in recent years, he said.

H. M. Gore, secretary of agriculture, sent a telegram of regret that he could not be present at the meeting.

Experts in grain marketing, farm economy and organization discussed their phases of agriculture today.

U. S. OBJECTS TO EMBARGO ON POTATOES

NOTE OF PROTEST BEING PREPARED AGAINST BRITISH ACTION

FARMER REPRESENTATIVES OF MAINE LODGE PROTEST WITH STATE DEPARTMENT

(By United Press)
Washington, Dec. 29.—A note of protest is being prepared today by the state department against the British embargo on American potatoes.

This government's stand is based on technical information supplied by the department of agriculture, showing that an embargo is not justified by the presence of Colorado beetles, or common potato bugs, in shipments to Great Britain.

Potato bugs are more prevalent in Canada than in the United States and no embargo has been put on Canadian exports by the British, it is understood here.

Farmer representatives from Maine and other states affected by the British embargo have protested to the state department.

The original name of the orange was "naranj". It came by way of Persia from southeastern China.

800 CHINESE WHO WERE IN RIOTING EXECUTED IN KALGAN

(By United Press)
London, Dec. 29.—Eight hundred Chinese soldiers who participated in the recent rioting in Kalgan were lined up along the railroad tracks and executed, according to a Central News dispatch from Tien Tsin.

The troops mutinied as a result of not receiving their pay and burned part of Kalgan, looting banks and shops. They were promised their pay if they would return to their barracks. This met with the approval of the mutineers, 800 in number, who entered box cars of a train for Kalgan. They were locked in, and the train was run onto a side track a little way out of the city where the rebels were shot to death by regular troops.

U. S. WILL INSIST ON FULL PAYMENT OF FRENCH DEBT

DEBT, HOWEVER, SEEMS TO HAVE BEEN OMITTED FROM THE FRENCH BUDGET

(By United Press)
Washington, Dec. 29.—The United States government will insist on full payment of the $4,000,000,000 French debt on easy terms, a leading member of the debt funding commission said today in expressing surprise over the omission of the debt from the French budget and the statement of Finance Minister Clementel that Allied debts must be pooled and reduced.

On the basis of reported assurances from France that she recognizes the legality and equity of the debt and will pay in full, this administration spokesman was reluctant to accept the reported Clementel statement as the real French policy.

SHOOT'S SELF TO BRING HARMONY

17 YEAR OLD BOY TRIED TO EFFECT RECONCILIATION OF PARENTS

(By United Press)
Chicago, Dec. 29.—Ray Johnson, 17-year-old boy, has reconciled his father and mother temporarily at least, although it may cost him his life.

Young Johnson fretted because his parents were almost continuously fighting. He didn't mind so much for himself, he said, but the three younger children suffered because his father didn't work.

And so Ray shot himself in the hope that grief for his death would bring his father and mother together. It did. His father today is looking for a job and has promised to stop drinking. His mother vows to be more lenient with her husband.

But physicians at the hospital said it was doubtful whether Ray would recover to enjoy the reconciliation.

2 COURAGEOUS ROBINS BRAVE TWIN CITY COLD

Minneapolis, Dec. 29.—Two courageous robins were still in the Twin Cities today despite the frigid temperatures.

Children at the home of O. Bord, 4912 36th ave. s., Minneapolis, saw a robin sitting on a branch outside their window last night. The bird was still there this morning, huddled up and apparently almost dead.

The other was seen near the university farm.

(By United Press)
Los Angeles, Dec. 29.—Jurors started the fourth day of deliberation over the fate of Kid McCoy, charged with the murder of Mrs. Teresa Mora, at 9:10 a. m. today.

The nine women and three men on the jury appeared refreshed after a long night's sleep as they filed into the jury room. Judge Chas. S. Crail, in whose court McCoy was tried, proceeded with the regular Monday morning law and motion calendar and the jury, in another room, continued the debate, which it is expected will result in a verdict today.

The jury stood 10 to 2 when it resumed deliberation. Murder trial fans, anticipating the "big moment" of the case, crowded the courtroom early this morning and took seats for the day.

Judge Crail announced at 11 a. m. he would not call the jury before him again until the members ask him to do so.

With the jurors still reported 10-2, the court withheld its scheduled dismissal in the hope that a verdict may be forthcoming.

HINT OF AN UNUSUAL TURN IN EXAMINATION

VITAL ORGANS OF WM. MCCLINTOCK EXAMINED BY CHEMISTS

PARTIAL REPORT IS BEING WITHHELD FROM PUBLICATION

(By United Press)
Chicago, Dec. 29.—A hint that something of an unusual nature has been found in the vital organs of William McClintock, "millionaire orphan," whose death is being investigated, was given today by Coroner Wolff. McClintock's death was ascribed to typhoid fever but Wolff is having a chemical analysis made for traces of poisoning.

Wolff said: "I have received a partial report from Dr. W. D. McNally as to the analysis made from the contents and the vital organs of the late remains of William McClintock. It is of such nature that I cannot at this time make any statement public for the reason that a wrong construction might be placed upon it, due to the fact that it is only a partial report. The final report, he advises me, will not be ready until 3 p. m. Friday, January 2, 1925. This is the earliest possible moment he can make this report. He has counted the hours allotted him between now and Friday and to complete this report by Friday 3 p. m. will mean night work."

(Signed) "Oscar Wolff, Coroner."

Wolff ordered a careful guard established over the laboratory where the chemists are making the analysis.

In the meantime William D. Shepherd, foster father of McClintock, is at his home here waiting for further developments. State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, in charge of the investigation, indicated he would again question Shepherd. Shepherd has already entered indignant denials to all insinuations that something other than typhoid fever killed his ward.

The bulk of the $2,000,000 estate will be left to Shepherd and his wife, under the will prepared by the youth shortly before his death.

Mrs. Hulshof charges cruelty and alleges her husband carried a revolver and frequently threatened to kill her.

She asserts Mr. Hulshof has failed to support her and between May 1 and June 12, when he deserted her, she charges, he squandered $600 of her money.

PROSPERITY TO CARRY OVER INTO NEW YEAR

PSYCHOLOGY PLAYS TREMENDOUS PART IN BUSINESS

WHEAT PRICES RECORDED A SHARP ADVANCE

(By United Press)
New York, Dec. 29.—With the momentum from active business of the preceding year the question was asked as 1924 got under way, whether the old time tradition of slackening of general business would govern this presidential year. Conditions were so satisfactory at the outset that it seemed unfortunate that a presidential election had to intervene with the chance of spoiling them. In Great Britain they may have elections oftener and at unexpected times, but the agony is all over in five or six weeks at the outside, whereas ours spreads over five or six months.

Nevertheless, it seemed as if the momentum must carry through, because fundamental conditions were steadily improving. The automobile trade was so confident of this that they speeded up their output so as not to be behind in their spring deliveries, while building activity was at record breaking.

But business curves have a way of moving up and down all their own and it is not always possible to place ones finger on the turning point or to account for it as it occurs. Sometimes Nature takes a hand in things in a most unexpected way. She did this year by allowing Winter to linger on the lap of Spring or even into that of Summer. To all intents and purposes over a large section of the country, there was no Spring and in the more Northerly sections, overcoats were worn right up to straw hat time.

This might seem to be a matter of merely casual interest, but it had an effect on economic conditions, that was far reaching. It meant that there was practically no retail trade of Spring goods. When you take the ordinary retail store where you are accustomed to buy your spring apparel, your spring hats and shoes and your spring sport clothes stocked up in anticipation of a normal demand that does not materialize, and multiply this by the many, many thousands of retail stores all over the country, the quality of merchandise involved and the amount of capital locked up assumed rather huge proportions. With this unsold stock, it was rather difficult to know what to do about entering into new commitments for summer supplies, to say nothing of financing them. Hence in the apparel lines there were bargain sales all over the country and clothes were cheaper than at any time since pre-war days.

Now this wonderful economic machine upon which we depend, is a delicately adjusted machine and if it slips a cog in one place it is pretty sure to throw the whole outfit out of adjustment. Wholesalers began to find their collections slowing down and hesitated to place orders with manufacturers for fall goods. The cotton and woolen mills refused to go ahead without advance orders and this hesitancy began to spread to other industries. One of the first to feel it was the automotive trade, although the late spring acted directly upon their sales as well as indirectly, and production had to be slowed down accordingly.

The Labor Supply
Psychology plays a tremendous part in business. Underlying conditions were sound; that is, ordinary supply and demand conditions if uninterfered with were well enough balanced to keep industry pretty well employed. It is a pretty sizeable job to provide for the normal requirements of 110 million people. In former days our labor supply was sufficient, if kept fully employed, to produce something like ten per cent in

HINT OF AN UNUSUAL TURN IN EXAMINATION

VITAL ORGANS OF WM. MCCLINTOCK EXAMINED BY CHEMISTS

PARTIAL REPORT IS BEING WITHHELD FROM PUBLICATION

(By United Press) Chicago, Dec. 29.—A hint that something of an unusual nature has been found in the vital organs of William McClintock, "millionaire orphan," whose death is being investigated, was given today by Coroner Wolff. McClintock's death was ascribed to typhoid fever but Wolff is having a chemical analysis made for traces of poisoning.

Wolff said: "I have received a partial report from Dr. W. D. McNally as to the analysis made from the contents and the vital organs of the late remains of William McClintock. It is of such nature that I cannot at this time make any statement public for the reason that a wrong construction might be placed upon it, due to the fact that it is only a partial report."

The final report, he advises me, will not be ready until 3 p. m. Friday, January 2, 1925. This is the earliest possible moment he can make this report. He has counted the hours allotted him between now and Friday and to complete this report by Friday 3 p. m. will mean night work."

(Signed) "Oscar Wolff, Coroner." Wolff ordered a careful guard established over the laboratory where the chemists are making the analysis. In the meantime William D. Shepherd, foster father of McClintock, is at his home here waiting for further developments. State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, in charge of the investigation, indicated he would again question Shepherd. Shepherd has already entered indignant denials to all insinuations that something other than typhoid fever killed his ward.

The bulk of the $2,000,000 estate will be left to Shepherd and his wife, under the will prepared by the youth shortly before his death.

Forced to Purchase Clothing for Mate, Wife Says; Asks Divorce

St. Paul, Dec. 29.—Charging she has purchased her husband's clothing since their marriage June 21, 1923, because he was too indolent and lazy, Anna Hulshof, 42, today filed suit for divorce from Guy Hulshof, 35.

Mrs. Hulshof charges cruelty and alleges her husband carried a revolver and frequently threatened to kill her.

She asserts Mr. Hulshof has failed to support her and between May 1 and June 12, when he deserted her, she charges, he squandered $600 of her money.

PROSPERITY TO CARRY OVER INTO NEW YEAR

PSYCHOLOGY PLAYS TREMENDOUS PART IN BUSINESS

WHEAT PRICES RECORDED A SHARP ADVANCE

(By United Press)

New York, Dec. 29.—With the momentum from active business of the preceding year the question was asked as 1924 got under way, whether the old time tradition of slackening of general business would govern this presidential year. Conditions were so satisfactory at the outset that it seemed unfortunate that a presidential election had to intervene with the chance of spoiling them. In Great Britain they may have elections oftener and at unexpected times, but the agony is all over in five or six weeks at the outside, whereas ours spreads over five or six months.

Nevertheless, it seemed as if the momentum must carry through, because fundamental conditions were steadily improving. The automobile trade was so confident of this that they speeded up their output so as not to be behind in their spring deliveries, while building activity was at record breaking.

But business curves have a way of moving up and down all their own and it is not always possible to place ones finger on the turning point or to account for it as it occurs. Sometimes Nature takes a hand in things in a most unexpected way. She did this year by allowing Winter to linger on the lap of Spring or even into that of Summer. To all intents and purposes over a large section of the country, there was no Spring and in the more Northern sections overcoats were worn right up to straw hat time.

This might seem to be a matter of merely casual interest, but it had an effect on economic conditions that was far reaching. It meant that there was practically no retail trade of Spring goods. When you take the ordinary retail store where you are accustomed to buy your spring apparel, your spring hats and shoes and your spring sport clothes stocked up in anticipation of a normal demand that does not materialize, and multiply this by the many, many thousands of retail stores all over the country, the quality of merchandise involved and the amount of capital locked up assumed rather huge proportions. With this unsold stock, it was rather difficult to know what to do about entering into new commitments for summer supplies, to say nothing of financing them. Hence in the apparel lines there were bargain sales all over the country and clothes were cheaper than at any time since pre-war days.

Now this wonderful economic machine upon which we depend, is a delicately adjusted machine and if it slips a cog in one place it is pretty sure to throw the whole outfit out of adjustment. Wholesalers began to find their collections slowing down and hesitated to place orders with manufacturers for fall goods. The cotton and woolen mills refused to go ahead without advance orders and this hesitancy began to spread to other industries. One of the first to feel it was the automotive trade, although the late spring acted directly upon their sales as well as indirectly, and production had to be slowed down accordingly.

The Labor Supply
Psychology plays a tremendous part in business. Underlying conditions were sound; that is, ordinary supply and demand conditions if uninterfered with were well enough balanced to keep industry pretty well employed. It is a pretty sizeable job to provide for the normal requirements of 110 million people. In former days our labor supply was sufficient, if kept fully employed, to produce something like ten per cent in

Once Populous Cities Reclaimed by Jungle

The old question whether a thing can be lost when you know where it is applies in part to lost cities, because the sites of many of them are known and in some cases even the buildings and statuary are almost intact.

Now, however, their only inhabitants are the beasts of the jungle, lions prowl through their echoing halls, monkeys race across their fretted arches and snakes lurk in their dark dungeons or glide across their crumbling pavements.

For instance, the holy city of the Buddhists—Barabodder, in Java—had been forgotten for 600 years when Sir Stamford Raffles rediscovered it and its wonderful temple, the eighth wonder of the world, says a writer in London Answers.

The jungle of Siam has hidden its ancient capital, Ayuthia, for four centuries. Its inhabitants fled before the conquering Burmese, and never returned. It is now said to be the lurking place of thousands of enormous snakes.

Mystery surrounds the dead city of Tibet, which Captain Rawling discovered. It is a vast collection of palaces, monasteries and dwelling houses, but the Tibetans professed ignorance of its existence and also of the reason of its abandonment.

Five centuries ago Angkor had a population of three-quarters of a million. Today it is the dead city of Cambodia. The carved stone elephants, the immense causeways, the majestic temples, still remain, but the jungle has invaded the streets and squares.

Young Ducklings Early at Home in the Water

The woodcock, unlike most other ducks, usually builds his nest far from his natural element, water, writes Ellis Gilmore MacLeod in St. Nicholas. But no sooner are the eggs hatched and the ducklings about the size of bumblebees, than each parent bird takes a little one in its bill, wriggles through the opening in the chestnut tree or white oak which harbors the nest, and with a quick glance lest some enemy may lurk near, flies swiftly overland to creek or water hole. Here the two tiny burdens are dropped gently into the water.

Without previous swimming lessons, these newly hatched mites dart over the surface of the water for the cover of marsh grass or lily pad where they hide until the return of their parents with more of their brothers and sisters.

The flight of the old ducks continues back and forth from the home nest to the water until the family of from 12 to 18 are assembled, when, at a soft call-note from the parents, every little paddler darts from cover and starts chasing water spiders, as if that were an old game.

His Way Out of Dilemma

The commanding officer looked down the charge sheet to see what type of case he had to deal with that morning.

Suddenly he started. "Mutiny!" he muttered. "Private King charged with mutiny!" Then aloud: "Where is the corporal who made this arrest?"

"Here, sir," answered a corporal, stepping forward.
"Do you charge Private King with mutiny?" was the stern inquiry.
"I do, sir," was the reply.
"On what grounds?"
The corporal hesitated for a moment. Then:
"Well, sir," he said, confidentially, "It was really insubordination, but I didn't know how to spell that, so I put 'mutiny.'"

Proper Care of Palms
Regular watering is essential, but it is better to keep palms a little dry than to overwater them. Browning of the tips of the leaves indicates trouble at the root, probably overwatering; possibly worms or lack of plant food. A palm which grows three new leaves a year is doing very well.

Greenland Currency
Animals mark the denominations of a Greenland paper currency issue of this century. The elder duck, saddle-backed seal, reindeer and polar bear denote different denominations.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

Passed Over Bonanza

Although any 49er who made good in the gold rush to California in 1849 had no bone to pick with his fate, it is a comment that many of them and their brothers who were not so successful walked right over a rich bonanza in the southern part of Mexico, along the isthmus of Panama, over which many of them trekked. Along the river of the Winding Snake many 49ers walked on their way to the Pacific coast, little knowing that later prospectors would find a rich field of oil beneath their feet.

Honor in Installments

The officials of a certain church were anxious to obtain a "D. D." for their pastor, and a letter was sent to a certain "diploma mill" asking for terms. Heat Kills Germs

Radiant (or visible) heat was emphasized by Prof. Leonard Hill—at a recent meeting of the London Zoological society—as "most useful in helping to fight against infection" from tuberculosis. Hot-water pipes, he pointed out, though an economical way of raising temperature in the animal houses, do not provide all the benefits of radiant heat such as we know best in the form of sunlight and, in another form, in the domestic coal fire. In fact, central heating—excellent in its place—is not healthy heating, as the prevalence of tuberculosis in steam-heating countries such as Sweden, Russia and the United States goes far to prove.

CHAMBER COMMERCE ANNUAL ELECTION

Reports of Committees to be Made.
Every Member Urged to be Present

MUCH INTEREST IN ELECTION

List Given of the Nominees Chosen at the Primary Election

The Chamber of Commerce holds its annual meeting tonight, with reports of committees and election of officers. This is the most important meeting of the year, and every member is urged to make a special effort to be present.

The annual reports of standing committees and the reports of special committees will be of much interest, for they will give a resume of the accomplishments of the Chamber during the past twelve months, and will offer a basis for the coming year's activities.

A great deal of interest has been exhibited in the election of officers, which takes place tonight. The primary election was held on Wednesday, December 10th, at which time nominees were selected for the various offices as well as for the board of directors.

The following nominees were chosen at the primary election, and from this list will be selected the officers and directors who will guide the destinies of the Chamber during the next twelve months:

For president, F. H. Gruenhagen, present incumbent, and O. A. Peterson.

For first vice president, Walter M. Murphy and Henry I. Cohen.

For second vice president, R. R. Gould and W. A. Spencer.

For third vice president, W. J. Hall and F. E. Stout.

The fourteen who received the highest number of votes for nomination on the board of directors, are: S. R. Adair, A. L. Hoffman, Con O'Brien, Henry I. Cohen, Dr. J. A. Thabes, B. L. Lagerquist, J. F. Cibazar, O. A. Peterson, Dr. R. A. Beise, B. S. Armstrong, W. C. Cobb, R. R. Gould, F. A. Farrar and G. S. Swanson. From these nominees seven will be elected to form the board of directors.

BEGIN FIGHT OVER LAUNDRESS-BRIDE

ANNULMENT SUIT BROUGHT BY RHINELANDER GETS UNDER WAY

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 29.—A court fight to determine whether Leonard Kip Rhinelander must keep the dusky little laundress he wooed and won as a bride is on.

Details of the affair which hitherto have been subject of rumor were laid bare as attorneys bickered and wrangled over a proper allowance for alimony and counsel fees pending trial of young Rhinelander's suit for annulment.

For the first time there was made a definite denial on behalf of Mrs. Rhinelander that she is an Ethiopian but this was done verbally by her counsel and was not included in her formal answer to the bill of particulars submitted by her husband. The young man, son of Philip Rhinelander, society leader, was revealed as possessing some $600,000 worth of real and personal property.

Rhineland, who is 23, is suing for annulment of his marriage to Grace Jones, slightly older than himself, a daughter of a Pelham hack driver, who declared himself a "colored man," when seeking naturalization papers.

The annulment petition and bill of particulars claim Mrs. Rhinelander, prior to their marriage last October, deceived her husband as to her race. He left her last month. That the bride will make a determined fight for a share of her husband's fortune was indicated by her counsel today.

Investigators, Judge Swineburt, said, are in England tracing Mr. Jones' parentage. They also will go to the West Indies. He asked $1,000 a month alimony and $10,000 counsel fees.

Justice Tompkins reserved decision after counsel for Rhinelander had opposed the amount.

CHRISTMAS DANCING PARTY SATURDAY

Misses Margaret Webb and Jean
Burnett Hostesses, 50 Couples
Present

IRON EXCHANGE HALL, SCENE

At 11 O'clock Balloons Were Showered Upon Dancers From the Balcony

A very pretty Christmas dancing party was given on Saturday evening, in the Iron Exchange hall, by the Misses Margaret Webb and Jean Burnett. Fifty couples from Brainerd's younger set were present, the majority being those young people who are home from college for the holidays.

The hall was beautifully decorated with silver balloons and Christmas trees. At eleven o'clock the balloons were showered upon the dancers from the balcony, presenting a very pretty feature of the evening.

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Webb, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Beise.

Light refreshments were served during the evening, and several feature dancing numbers were enjoyed.

The music was furnished by Hedstrom's orchestra, which organization outdid itself in presenting the latest dance numbers in a way that brought forth the highest compliments from the dancers.

Several other social functions are on the calendar for the young people before the holiday season is closed.

CONTEST CASE UP

Jamison vs Whitney to be Heard by Judge Stanton on December 30

(From Pequot Review)

Hearing on the matter of the ouster proceedings in the matter of the complaint of Judge Bert Jamison, contestant, against Frank N. Whitney, contestee, which complaint is based on alleged libelous articles published in the Duluth Rip Saw, and alleged misstatement tending to mislead the public will be had in District Court during the adjourned session, by special order filed by Judge Stanton on December 30th, at the Court Rooms in Walker.

Graham M. Torrence, and Daniel DeLury, appear in behalf of Frank N. Whitney, contestee, while Judge Jamison is represented in his contention by M. E. & C. A. Ryan, of Brainerd.

Much interest is manifested in this case, which is likely to have a far reaching effect, in the event that the contestant prevails over the contestee.

The case will be tried by the court without a jury. Frank N. Whitney defeated Judge Jamison at the November election for the office of Probate Judge of Cass county, and sensational literature in the form of "Rip Saw" articles were sent broadcast, which act is claimed by Judge Jamison to be a direct violation of the Corrupt Practices Law.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre
at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark, and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

INSULATING THE HOME

THE place to start your coal saving is when you build your home. Build your home right and you effect an immense fuel saving. The average dwelling, so it is asserted, is so built that only between 40 and 50 per cent of the heat of the coal consumed in its furnace is used to make the house comfortable for its occupants. The rest of the heat leaks through the walls and roofs, especially the latter. At the cost of one winter's supply of coal, in the average case, a house can be so built that the cost of heating will be cut in half.

The secret, says a writer in Popular Science Monthly, lies in supplying insulation for the walls and roof; heat-resisting material, which will prevent the furnace heat from escaping outward, and conversely also will keep the hot rays of the sun from making the house overwarm in summer.

It has been determined that a house of good frame construction, with a single inch of sufficient heat-insulating material in its walls, will be protected from the cold of winter and the heat of summer as effectively as though its walls were of brick 16 inches thick or composed of concrete 26 inches thick. Moreover, such a house will save its occupants money in coal, not only because it will require less fuel to operate the furnace, but because a fire need not be started so early in the autumn, nor kept going so late in spring.

Insulation of a house is accomplished simply by packing all the hollows between walls tightly with wood wool, pure wool, mineral wool, hair felt, cork board, rock cork or various manufactured products, and applying a layer of similar materials beneath the roof. Since most heat-stopping materials are little more than refuse, they can be purchased cheaply.

One of the first contractors in Brainerd to realize the value of insulating buildings is William T. Carlson. Insulating material has been used with great success in business blocks he remodeled and in new homes built.

SOFTENED WATER IN ST. PAUL

BEGINNING January 2, St. Paul will be treated to a softened water supply, and if the experiment suits the customers, it will be continued and the rates changed so as to insure its continuance.

It will necessitate a cost of about $60,000 a year to treat the water with lime and soften it and the cost will be from 10 cents to 15 cents a month to the average consumer. Savings, directly and indirectly effected, will be much more.

Every housewife knows that softened water means less work in the laundry, less soap, less wear on the clothes washed, less use of fuel, less scale on water pipes and kitchen utensils, greater value of foods prepared in softened water.

And another thing, carrying great weight in these days of constant hair dressing, every woman knows she can wash her hair better in softened water than in hard water.

Superintendent J. W. Kelsey of St. Paul, according to newspaper reports, says it will cost about $8 a gallon for the lime. The average daily consumption is 22,000,000 gallons of water in St. Paul. A labor cost of $20 a day brings the average monthly cost to $5,880.

The St. Paul experiment will be watched with a great deal of interest by other communities now using hard water. It can be made equally as beneficial in Brainerd if the water here can be softened. Machines are sold which soften water, the Dispatch lately receiving such advertising literature. But the cost of a machine, ranging around $200, is too high for the average family.

SERIOUS OFFENSE TO POISON ANIMALS

INDISCRIMINATE poisoning of dogs and cats, etc., is a serious offense. For one to scatter poisoned meat about his yard to do away with stray animals, is something not permitted by the law, and is punishable.

The law in this regard is very strict, and the quotation of the following question and answer from Farm, Stock and Home may be the means of saving persons ignorant of the law a lot of trouble:

Question: "What punishment is there if a person sets traps and lays poison for wolves or dogs?"

Ans.—Any person who unjustifiably administers any poisonous or noxious drugs or substance to any animal, or procures or permits the same to be done, or unjustifiably exposes any such drug or substance with intent that the same shall be taken by any animal, whether such animal be the property of himself or another, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding two years or in a county jail not exceeding six months or by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

No, you don't have to go to California to see the eclipse of the sun. Duluth will be the only city in the Northwest to see the total eclipse. Even Superior, Wisconsin, cannot share in the honor.

A ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS story gave Brainerd credit with 34 degrees below zero, acclaiming it the coldest place in the state. It mixed the Brainerd record with Bemidji of Saturday morning.

PILING up postal rates on daily papers may put many papers out of business and thus destroy the very source of government revenue, duplicating the fable of the goose and the golden eggs.

ON getting up this morning, says the editor of the Little Falls Daily Transcript, we found that static had interfered with the heat waves coming from the furnace during the night.

BUILDING that new dam at Blanchard Rapids near Little Falls is costing the contractors additional money because so much machinery is accidentally toppling over into the river.

SCIENTISTS are disturbed over an error made in computing the weight of the earth. The average citizen hasn't noticed the difference.

MICROBES THAT ARE DEADLY TO ALL BACTERIA

BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN DISCOVERED BY DR. ROBERT G. GREEN, "U" PROFESSOR

MINNEAPOLIS MAN BELIEVES THEY OFFER NEW MEANS OF FIGHTING DISEASE GERMS

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Dec. 29.—Living microbes so small that they are infinitesimal compared with the smallest known bacteria are believed to have been discovered by Dr. Robert G. Green, assistant professor of bacteriology and immunology at the University of Minnesota.

The microbes suspended in a fluid are so deadly to bacteria that they may prove a new means of fighting disease germs, Dr. Green believes. They are said to be harmless to man. So powerful are the microbes that dilution of the fluid 3,600,000 times leaves it still deadly to bacteria. Cultures of typhoid fever, diphtheria, dysentery and other infectious diseases have been completely destroyed by Dr. Green's experiments with the fluid completely diluted.

Discovery of the super-microbes represents the discovery of life in a more tiny form than has ever been known before according to the experimenter. Further experiments must profoundly affect medical progress, he is convinced.

The microbes apparently act as an enemy of bacteria, destroying them in a few hours. The phase of the fluid in which the microbe life is suspended is still effective when filtered through stone. Powerful microscopes were not strong enough to reveal the microbes, which are believed to be too minute to reflect a ray of light.

Dr. Green is convinced the microbes are living because they appear to multiply rapidly. Only living things can reproduce.

Oldest Form of Writing

The oldest form of writing is perhaps the oldest of the known scripts. This writing was in the form of pictures. The most ancient Egyptian papyrus now known contains accounts of the reign of King Assa (c. 3300 B.C.). The earliest cuneiform script is that known for the name of its father, the word, the Picta Papyrus, now preserved in Paris. It contains a work composed in the reign of a king of the fifth dynasty, and is computed to have been written as early as 2500 B.C.

Caddy's Limitations

One day "Fieri" was caddy for a rather petulant golfer, who, after missing a shot, put on the miffed green at Muirfield, threw his putter into the neighboring potato field to relieve his feelings.

With face unmoved, "Fieri" was walking in the direction of the next tee when the golfer said: "Oh! 'Fieri,' you might go and get my putter."

To this "Fieri" replied: "I'm afraid to carry, no the fetch and carry."

Gave Tint to Water

Opposite Buckingham palace is to be found the Victoria memorial. This beautiful piece of workmanship is particularly remarkable for the clear, delicate green of the water in its marble basins. The secret of its coloring and translucency was revealed recently when two workmen were observed secretly drawing a large sack to and fro through the water. They explained to an interested onlooker that the sack was filled with a certain substance which, while preventing the growth of weeds, gave the water its delicate apple-green tint. — London Times.

IF SKIN BREAKS
OUT AND ITCHES
APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.—Adv.

INSULATING THE HOME

THE place to start your coal saving is when you build your home. Build your home right and you effect an immense fuel saving. The average dwelling, so it is asserted, is so built that only between 40 and 50 per cent of the heat of the coal consumed in its furnace is used to make the house comfortable for its occupants. The rest of the heat leaks through the walls and roofs, especially the latter. At the cost of one winter's supply of coal, in the average case, a house can be so built that the cost of heating will be cut in half.

The secret, says a writer in Popular Science Monthly, lies in supplying insulation for the walls and roof; heat-resisting material, which will prevent the furnace heat from escaping outward, and conversely also will keep the hot rays of the sun from making the house overwarm in summer.

It has been determined that a house of good frame construction, with a single inch of sufficient heat-insulating material in its walls, will be protected from the cold of winter and the heat of summer as effectively as though its walls were of brick 16 inches thick or composed of concrete 26 inches thick. Moreover, such a house will save its occupants money in coal, not only because it will require less fuel to operate the furnace, but because a fire need not be started so early in the autumn, nor kept going so late in spring.

Insulation of a house is accomplished simply by packing all the hollows between walls tightly with wood wool, pure wool, mineral wool, hair felt, cork board, rock cork or various manufactured products, and applying a layer of similar materials beneath the roof. Since most heat-stopping materials are little more than refuse, they can be purchased cheaply.

One of the first contractors in Brainerd to realize the value of insulating buildings is William T. Carlson. Insulating material has been used with great success in business blocks he remodeled and in new homes built.

SOFTENED WATER IN ST. PAUL

BEGINNING January 2, St. Paul will be treated to a softened water supply, and if the experiment suits the customers, it will be continued and the rates changed so as to insure its continuance.

It will necessitate a cost of about $60,000 a year to treat the water with lime and soften it and the cost will be from 10 cents to 15 cents a month to the average consumer. Savings, directly and indirectly effected, will be much more.

Every housewife knows that softened water means less work in the laundry, less soap, less wear on the clothes washed, less use of fuel, less scale on water pipes and kitchen utensils, greater value of foods prepared in softened water.

And another thing, carrying great weight in these days of constant hair dressing, every woman knows she can wash her hair better in softened water than in hard water.

Superintendent J. W. Kelsey of St. Paul, according to newspaper reports, says it will cost about $8 a gallon for the lime. The average daily consumption is 22,000,000 gallons of water in St. Paul. A labor cost of $20 a day brings the average monthly cost to $5,880.

The St. Paul experiment will be watched with a great deal of interest by other communities now using hard water. It can be made equally as beneficial in Brainerd if the water here can be softened. Machines are sold which soften water, the Dispatch lately receiving such advertising literature. But the cost of a machine, ranging around $200, is too high for the average family.

SERIOUS OFFENSE TO POISON ANIMALS

INDISCRIMINATE poisoning of dogs and cats, etc., is a serious offense. For one to scatter poisoned meat about his yard to do away with stray animals, is something not permitted by the law, and is punishable.

The law in this regard is very strict, and the quotation of the following question and answer from Farm, Stock and Home may be the means of saving persons ignorant of the law a lot of trouble:

Poisoning animals:—J. H. D.: "What punishment is there if a person sets traps and lays poison for wolves or dogs?"

"Ans.—Any person who unjustifiably administers any poisonous or noxious drugs or substance to any animal, or procures or permits the same to be done, or unjustifiably exposes any such drug or substance with intent that the same shall be taken by any animal, whether such animal be the property of himself or another, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding two years or in a county jail not exceeding six months or by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

No, you don't have to go to California to see the eclipse of the sun. Duluth will be the only city in the Northwest to see the total eclipse. Even Superior, Wisconsin, cannot share in the honor.

A ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS story gave Brainerd credit with 34 degrees below zero, acclaiming it the coldest place in the state. It mixed the Brainerd record with Bemidji of Saturday morning.

PILING up postal rates on daily papers may put many papers out of business and thus destroy the very source of government revenue, duplicating the fable of the goose and the golden eggs.

ON getting up this morning, says the editor of the Little Falls Daily Transcript, we found that static had interfered with the heat waves coming from the furnace during the night.

BUILDING that new dam at Blanchard Rapids near Little Falls is costing the contractors additional money because so much machinery is accidentally toppling over into the river.

SCIENTISTS are disturbed over an error made in computing the weight of the earth. The average citizen hasn't noticed the difference.

MICROBES THAT ARE DEADLY TO ALL BACTERIA

BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN DISCOVERED BY DR. ROBERT G. GREEN, "U" PROFESSOR

MINNEAPOLIS MAN BELIEVES THEY OFFER NEW MEANS OF FIGHTING DISEASE GERMS

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Dec. 29.—Living microbes so small that they are infinitesimal compared with the smallest known bacteria are believed to have been discovered by Dr. Robert G. Green, assistant professor of bacteriology and immunology at the University of Minnesota.

The microbes suspended in a fluid are so deadly to bacteria that they may prove a new means of fighting disease germs, Dr. Green believes. They are said to be harmless to man.

So powerful are the microbes that dilution of the fluid 3,000,000 times leaves it still deadly to bacteria. Cultures of typhoid fever, diphtheria, dysentery and other infectious diseases have been completely destroyed by Dr. Green's experiments with the fluid completely diluted.

Discovery of the super-microbes represents the discovery of life in a more tiny form than has ever been known before according to the experimenter. Further experiments must profoundly affect medical progress, he is convinced.

The microbes apparently act as an enemy of bacteria, destroying them in a few hours. The phase of the fluid in which the microbe life is suspended is still effective when filtered through stone. Powerful microscopes were not strong enough to reveal the microbes, which are believed to be too minute to reflect a ray of light.

Dr. Green is convinced the microbes are living because they appear to multiply rapidly. Only living things can reproduce.

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK FOR 1925 IS CONSIDERED BRIGHT

excess of normal domestic requirements, and the surplus had to find a foreign outlet, which accounted for the fact that it was sometimes found possible to buy articles of American manufacture cheaper abroad than at home. Now, however, with our restrictive immigration laws, the labor supply is on a more stable basis so that in a general way, this problem of surplus production is less acute and in many instances has disappeared altogether.

But orderly operation of economic law was interfered with and inevitably there had to be a reckoning. No sooner had warm weather arrived and retail trade begun to pick up, when the nominating conventions were held. As between the two principal parties, the country did not feel particularly nervous, but the injection of the third party into the campaign altered things considerably, not that there was any fear that it would elect its candidate, but that it might poll enough votes to hold the balance of power and throw the election to congress with the turmoil and confusion that would follow. Hence important projects were held in abeyance. Iron and steel production began to slump badly and by the middle of the year were lower than they had been in years.

There was no use of consumers placing orders for future requirements, first because they didn't know what these would be, and further because they could replenish at any time without any misgivings as to price or delivery. Thus throughout the year to almost all basic and productive lines there was what is commonly known as hand to mouth buying—buying simply to keep pace with current requirements.

But by midsummer conditions began to change. It was evident that the farmers were going to have a good year with fairly large crops and a good demand for them, owing to the partial failure of crops abroad. Wheat prices advanced sharply and there was the unusual spectacle of an advancing wheat market at a time when the movement from the farms to the market was heaviest so that the farmers themselves were directly benefited by the advance. They were enabled to pay their debts and buy goods and with this element of discontent removed the radicals lost their chief appeal. It soon became evident that sentiment had set in strongly in favor of national conservatism and business began to anticipate it. Even before the election there was a decided improvement in general business. Retail and mail order business began to feel it.

Stock Market Broke Loose
In the meantime the Dawes plan had been put into effect and at last there was the dawn of economic recovery of Europe. Then came the British election with its overwhelming return to conservatism, to be followed in a few days by our own demonstration and then the floodgates were opened. The stock market which all this time had been a mirror of general business conditions, simply broke loose. With fundamental conditions sound, with relatively little unemployment, with huge savings bank deposits and with a good European outlook, all the elements were there for good business. All that was needed was confidence, the assurance that political demagogues would not be allowed to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery.

This assurance was forthcoming. By all the signs we were entering upon a period of prosperity the like of which we had never known and there was a rush into the stock market to anticipate it. Wall Street was no longer the crooked thoroughfare with Trinity Church at its head. Its boundaries were the boundaries of the Nation itself and then some, for buying orders came from across the borders and under the seas.

For full six weeks after the election, the Stock Exchange was a seething maelstrom before the edge began to wear off the speculative enthusiasm and even then prices held and activity continued but with trading more discriminating in character. There may be some inflation as to individual issues of securities, but this will duly correct itself. There is no fear of inflation in general industry for months to come, because the hand-to-mouth buying kept inventories down and it will take a long time, with no excess labor supply to build up normal reserves. Inflation comes when there is speculation in anticipation of an abnormal demand, but for the present we are busy catching up from a subnormal.

What of the outlook for 1925? In this country we are operating on a basis of high wages, higher than the world has ever known. It is true that it increases production costs and until there is a proper adjustment, there will, in a number of instances, be a question of adequate profits. But there need be no great fear on this score. It is not that there is merely a necessity for increasing the selling prices of the products affected; it is a far broader proposition than that. These higher wages have brought forth a higher standard of living, have augmented the wants of the wage earners, so that their buying power is spread over a much wider field.

The automobile industry is the second largest in the country, but for all practical purposes it has come into its own since the Armistice. Where has the buying power come from to support it? The moving picture and the radio industries are latter day developments, involving millions upon millions of new capital invested. Where has it all come from? The answer is that we are now living upon a new level and that industry must expand to meet its requirements. Yet there is nothing really new in this process. When the United States Steel Corporation was formed in 1901, it was looked upon as the climax of audacity in industrial consolidation. Today we accept this billion dollar corporation as a matter of course. It ushered in a new era of big business and enlightened business management. Its shares which sold as low as $8 in those early days have recently sold close to $120. Twenty-three years ago there were those who held that the limit of industrial expansion had been reached. Has anybody the temerity in this day to say that this new level is the top? There has never been any top in the nation's history, and never has there been a backward step. It is possible that but for the stimulation of the war, we might have been longer in arriving at where we are now, but we would have reached this point in due time.

AWAIT REPORTS BEFORE ARRAIGNING

TONY REIMER SPENDS CHRISTMAS ALONE IN BAUDETTE JAIL, AWAITING HEARING

Baudette, Dec. 29.—Whether Tony Reimer, north woods trapper, held in the county jail here in connection with the recent death of Mrs. Elsie Wheeler, of Clearwater, Kansas, in a cabin in the northwest Angle country a month ago, will be arraigned on a charge of first degree murder, appeared problematical, pending the arrival of information from Clearwater and Wichita, Kans., and the completion of an analysis by the University of Minnesota of a shawl covered with red stains, believed to be blood.

County Attorney E. C. Middleton said he is leaving no stone unturned in an effort to present conclusive evidence that Reimer is the man reported to have worked in and around Clearwater last fall. A private operative, working under the county attorney's office at Wichita, is gathering data and photographs, which Mr. Middleton said he expects to receive, together with the findings of the University of Minnesota, before he presents the facts to the court. According to Mr. Middleton, this may not take place till next Monday. Middleton stated that he hoped to have sufficient evidence when Reimer is arraigned for preliminary hearing to have him bound over to the grand jury. That body, which is not scheduled until next June, probably would then be called to meet in an extra session.

Tony Reimer spent Christmas day and night alone, being the only guest of the Lake of the Woods county jail. He was given an old time Christmas dinner.

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

excess of normal domestic requirements, and the surplus had to find a foreign outlet, which accounted for the fact that it was sometimes found possible to buy articles of American manufacture cheaper abroad than at home. Now, however, with our restrictive immigration laws, the labor supply is on a more stable basis so that in a general way, this problem of surplus production is less acute and in many instances has disappeared altogether.

But orderly operation of economic law was interfered with and inevitably there had to be a reckoning. No sooner had warm weather arrived and retail trade begun to pick up, when the nominating conventions were held. As between the two principal parties, the country did not feel particularly nervous, but the injection of the third party into the campaign altered things considerably, not that there was any fear that it would elect its candidate, but that it might poll enough votes to hold the balance of power and throw the election to congress with the turmoil and confusion that would follow. Hence important projects were held in abeyance. Iron and steel production began to slump badly and by the middle of the year were lower than they had been in years.

There was no use of consumers placing orders for future requirements, first because they didn't know what these would be, and further because they could replenish at any time without any misgivings as to price or delivery. Thus throughout the year to almost all basic and productive lines there was what is commonly known as hand to mouth buying—buying simply to keep pace with current requirements.

But by midsummer conditions began to change. It was evident that the farmers were going to have a good year with fairly large crops and a good demand for them, owing to the partial failure of crops abroad. Wheat prices advanced sharply and there was the unusual spectacle of an advancing wheat market at a time when the movement from the farms to the market was heaviest so that the farmers themselves were directly benefited by the advance. They were enabled to pay their debts and buy goods and with this element of discontent removed the radicals lost their chief appeal. It soon became evident that sentiment had set in strongly in favor of national conservatism and business began to anticipate it. Even before the election there was a decided improvement in general business. Retail and mail order business began to feel it.

Stock Market Broke Loose

In the meantime the Dawes plan had been put into effect and at last there was the dawn of economic recovery of Europe. Then came the British election with its overwhelming return to conservatism, to be followed in a few days by our own demonstration and then the floodgates were opened. The stock market which all this time had been a mirror of general business conditions, simply broke loose. With fundamental conditions sound, with relatively little unemployment, with huge savings bank deposits and with a good European outlook, all the elements were there for good business. All that was needed was confidence, the assurance that political demagogues would not be allowed to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery.

This assurance was forthcoming. By all the signs we were entering upon a period of prosperity the like of which we had never known and there was a rush into the stock market to anticipate it. Wall Street was no longer the crooked thoroughfare with Trinity Church at its head. Its boundaries were the boundaries of the Nation itself and then some, for buying orders came from across the borders and under the seas.

For full six weeks after the election, the Stock Exchange was a seething maelstrom before the edge began to wear off the speculative enthusiasm and even then prices held and activity continued but with trading more discriminating in character. There may be some inflation as to individual issues of securities, but this will duly correct itself. There is no fear of inflation in general industry for months to come, because the hand-to-mouth buying kept inventories down and it will take a long time, with no excess labor supply to build up normal reserves. Inflation comes when there is speculation in anticipation of an abnormal demand, but for the present we are busy catching up from a subnormal.

What of the outlook for 1925? In this country we are operating on a basis of high wages, higher than the world has ever known. It is true that it increases production costs and until there is a proper adjustment, there will, in a number of instances, be a question of adequate profits. But there need be no great fear on this score. It is not that there is merely a necessity for increasing the selling prices of the products affected; it is a far broader proposition than that. These higher wages have brought forth a higher standard of living, have augmented the wants of the wage earners, so that their buying power is spread over a much wider field.

The automobile industry is the second largest in the country, but for all practical purposes it has come into its own since the Armistice. Where has the buying power come from to support it? The moving picture and the radio industries are latter day developments, involving millions upon millions of new capital invested. Where has it all come from? The answer is that we are now living upon a new level and that industry must expand to meet its requirements. Yet there is nothing really new in this process. When the United States Steel Corporation was formed in 1901, it was looked upon as the climax of audacity in industrial consolidation. Today we accept this billion dollar corporation as a matter of course. It ushered in a new era of big business and enlightened business management. Its shares which sold as low as $8 in those early days have recently sold close to $120. Twenty-three years ago there were those who held that the limit of industrial expansion had been reached. Has anybody the temerity in this day to say that this new level is the top? There has never been any top in the nation's history, and never has there been a backward step. It is possible that but for the stimulation of the war, we might have been longer in arriving at where we are now, but we would have reached this point in due time.

Puns on Pussy

The boys had been told to write an essay on cats and this is the effort of the class comedian: "There are lots of kinds of cats. Cats that are made to maul and tease and are called Maltese. Some cats are known by their queer purr—these are called Purrson cats. Bad-tempered cats are known as Angorrie cats. Cats with deep feelings are feline cats."

AWAIT REPORTS BEFORE ARRAIGNING

TONY REIMER SPENDS CHRISTMAS ALONE IN BAUDETTE JAIL, AWAITING HEARING

Baudette, Dec. 29.—Whether Tony Reimer, north woods trapper, held in the county jail here in connection with the recent death of Mrs. Elsie Wheeler, of Clearwater, Kansas, in a cabin in the northwest Angle country a month ago, will be arraigned on a charge of first degree murder, appeared problematical, pending the arrival of information from Clearwater and Wichita, Kans., and the completion of an analysis by the University of Minnesota of a shawl covered with red stains, believed to be blood.

County Attorney E. C. Middleton said he is leaving no stone unturned in an effort to present conclusive evidence that Reimer is the man reported to have worked in and around Clearwater last fall. A private operative, working under the county attorney's office at Wichita, is gathering data and photographs, which Mr. Middleton said he expects to receive, together with the findings of the University of Minnesota, before he presents the facts to the court. According to Mr. Middleton, this may not take place till next Monday. Middleton stated that he hoped to have sufficient evidence when Reimer is arraigned for preliminary hearing to have him bound over to the grand jury. That body, which is not scheduled until next June, probably would then be called to meet in an extra session.

Tony Reimer spent Christmas day and night alone, being the only guest of the Lake of the Woods county jail. He was given an old time Christmas dinner.

Thomas Meighan, Bessie Love and Eileen Percy in a scene from the Paramount Picture "Tongues of Flame" A Joseph Henabery Production

Meighan Supported by Strong Cast in "Tongues of Flame"

Supporting Thomas Meighan in his latest Paramount picture, "Tongues of Flame," produced by Joseph Henabery from the last novel by the late Peter Clark Macfarlane, is one of the finest casts that have ever appeared with the popular star.

The picture, which was adapted for the screen by Townsend Martin, includes Bessie Love and Eileen Percy in the principal feminine roles. Miss Love is cast as a pretty Indian girl school teacher while Miss Percy has the role of the daughter of the village capitalist in the town where Tom, as Henry Harrington, has his little law office.

"Tongues of Flame" has to do with a tight-fisted capitalist who enlists Meighan's aid to, unknown to Tom, swindle a tribe of neighboring Indians out of their valuable reservation. When Tom realizes what is going on he quickly turns against his employer, denounces him as a swindler and takes up the fight on the side of the Indians, many of whom had served under him in the Great War.

"Tongues of Flame" will be shown at the New Park tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"So This Is Marriage" Offers Glimpse of Old Jerusalem

A glimpse of the Jerusalem of King David's time is afforded in "So This Is Marriage," Hobart Henley's second production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which is coming to the Lyceum theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. While the story concerns the experiences of a modern young couple, an interlude in natural color photography is used to illustrate the Bible story of how Bath-Sheba betrayed her husband through desire for David, and of the punishment meted out by God.

4 Big Vaudeville Acts at New Park Thursday

On Thursday (New Years Day) matinee and night the New Park will present four big vaudeville acts and Johnny Hines in "The Early Bird." The vaudeville headliner will be Al Sweets Singing Hussar Band an orchestra of nine pieces and a male chorus.

No. 2. Toots and Pal presenting "The Canine Wonder" a remarkably educated dog. No. 3. Bob Hulen and Kathryn Horter in a musical comedy skit called "Love Blossoms." No. 4. Joe Devillin and his lady assistant in "Musical Moments." These people are exceptionally clever comedians. This big bill will be presented at popular prices.

"He Who Gets Slapped" Opens "Anniversary Week" at Lyceum

"He Who Gets Slapped" is a motion picture production that can truthfully be called great. It opened at the Lyceum yesterday and that house should do capacity business during the engagement which ends tonight, for the picture is one of the finest contributions of the year.

Victor Seastrom, Lon Chaney and Leonid Andreyev share honors for this remarkable photoplay. Andreyev's story is internationally famous.

Scene from Victor Seastrom's "HE WHO GETS SLAPPED"

Seastrom conclusively demonstrated by his masterful handling of the story and people that he is one of the foremost directors of the day. Chaney gives what is probably his best performance. As the clown in "He Who Gets Slapped" Chaney is not a grotesque figure, but a human and sympathetic character who will tug at the heart-strings of everyone. The story centers about a noted scientist whose life, work and wife are taken by a man who was supposed to be his best friend. Despondent, the scientist joins a circus as a clown. This gives an opportunity for many amusing touches and also for a tender love story.

Norma Shearer is the girl in the story and she gives a very good performance. Miss Shearer is one of the most beautiful girls in pictures and photographs especially well in "He Who Gets Slapped."

"Man is Judged By the Company He Keeps"

The moral of Aesop's fable is to be careful about one's associates. This applies with equal emphasis to one's shopping place.

When we decide upon a store as being worthy our patronage, we want to know that the company behind it is trustworthy; that its merchandise is always as represented and of dependable quality; that its salespeople are men and women of intelligence and ability who will be helpful and courteous.

Put us to that test!

BOY VICTIM OF SHOOTING ACCIDENT

Walter Lee Alexander, Son of Robert Alexander, Injured Near Grey Eagle, Minnesota

HUNTING MINK WITH 3 BOYS

In Chopping at Tree Where Animal Lodged, Believed Gun Was Discharged Inflicting Fatal Wound

Walter Lee Alexander, thirteen-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander, 122 Third avenue, Northeast, passed away at a local hospital at 6:45 o'clock Sunday morning, the result of a shooting accident.

The Alexander family motored to Grey Eagle, Minnesota, last Tuesday, to spend the holidays with relatives. On Friday morning, in company with his brother Harold and two boy friends, Walter went hunting mink. The animal was tracked to a hole under a tree, and the boys attempted to dig it out.

None of his companions could explain how the fatal accident occurred. A 22 calibre rifle, which the boys were carrying, was cocked and lying on the ground. One theory advanced was that in chopping at the root of the tree, the chips from the tree, or frozen pieces of ground may have struck the trigger of the rifle, thereby discharging it.

The bullet entered Walter's abdomen, tearing its way through the intestines. The boy was carried by his companions to a nearby farm, and medical assistance secured. The physician advised that he be taken to a hospital, and the parents decided to bring him to Brainerd. Every medical attention was given, but the boy slowly weakened and passed away on Sunday morning. The accident occurred about six miles from Grey Eagle.

Walter Lee Alexander was born at Grey Eagle, December 10th, 1911. The family moved to Brainerd several years ago, and Walter has been a regular attendant at the Lowell school, in Northeast Brainerd, being in the sixth grade. He was a studious boy, and his teachers have nothing but the highest praise for his school work.

In addition to his parents, Walter is survived by one brother, Harold, living at home, and by relatives at Grey Eagle.

The body was taken to Grey Eagle on Monday afternoon in charge of the boy's uncle, Lee Alexander, and the funeral will be held there at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the United Brethren church, with interment in the cemetery at that town.

The sorrowing parents have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

Argentine Santa Claus

The American consul general to Argentina says that "they do not have a Santa Claus in this country as we practice it in the United States, but on each 6th of January they dress up to a very limited extent what they call 'Los Reyes' (the Kings), wearing a Santa Claus beard and a red or colored coat, but the performance is very tame and not at all general."

PRESENTS RESIGNATION

Miss Bertha Muelbauer, For Several Years Assistant Secretary, Leaves Chamber of Commerce

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce at a recent meeting were very sorry to be obliged to accept the resignation of Miss Bertha Muelbauer who has acted for the past several years as assistant secretary. As the correspondence is not very heavy, the directors decided to dispense with a stenographer and tender the situation to some single lady of Brainerd as they believe there are many here who could fill the position to the credit of themselves and the Chamber of Commerce as long as a knowledge of stenography is not required.

A. L. Hoffman was appointed as a committee of one to accept applications and explain the duties of the office as he was at one time acting secretary of the Chamber and very familiar with the work. As Miss Muelbauer retires from the Chamber on Jan. 5th the directors would like to fill this position by that date. The hours of service required are from 12 noon to 5:30 P. M. week days.

TENNIS SETTLEMENT FAIR, SAYS FARRELL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 29.—Common sense and good sportsmanship brought about the settlement of the extended controversy between William T. Tilden and the United States Lawn Tennis Association and it offered a good example that might be followed in the adjustment of difficulties that may arise in other sports.

Tilden contended that he was right in refusing to accept the opinion of the association in declaring that he was a professional for making money as a newspaper writer. The Association claimed it was right in forming the opinion that writing for newspapers constituted a violation of the amateur rule.

From a strictly neutral standpoint, both sides were right and the two factions were sincere enough to hold out until it seemed that the continuation of a controversy, which the public considered as rather trivial, would result in unlimited damage to an organization and a game that had been built up in the United States by years of untiring effort.

The association then made a wise move by suggesting that a committee of three "outsiders" be called in to decide which faction was right and Tilden's defenders agreed to it. The same wisdom behind the idea was carried out in selecting as the committee of outsiders in the jury box such nationally known authorities as Senator George Wharton Pepper, Grantland Rice and Devereux Milburn.

How long would some of the foolish quarrels of organized baseball last if a committee of such authorities were called in to pass judgment on the disagreements of baseball?

This special committee called in to consider the case with representatives of the two tennis factions decided that Tilden was partially right and that the Association was partly right. They suggested a compromise with an entirely new definition of the amateur rule that would support the main points of the Association's stand for clean tennis and which would also support Tilden's contention regarding the individual personal liberties of a player.

The new amateur rule was drawn and it was accepted. The legal genius of Senator Pepper put the rule in language that was a defeat for neither faction, and was only a sportsmanlike deference to the justice of the other side's main points of contention.

Tilden, as a result of the rule, can continue to write, but he cannot use any of his titles under his name and he cannot actually cover any tournaments in which he is entered as a player.

1925 AUTO TAGS ARE READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

A St. Paul dispatch says that Secretary of State Mike Holm received his 400 tons of automobile tags for 1925, and these have been stored and are carefully guarded in the basement of the capitol.

The consignment, consisting of 510,000 sets of motor vehicle license plates for 1925 was manufactured by the Western Display Company of St. Paul, and the enormous task of distributing the new tags to automobile owners in Minnesota, will begin on January 1.

The color scheme for the number plates for 1925 is as follows:

The "A," "B," and "C" tags for passenger cars and busses have black letters on an aluminum background.

The "T," "X," and "Y," and "Z" plates used on trucks, commercial cars and trailers are a bright orange with black letters.

The "D" dealers' plates are of robin's egg blue with black letters.

Child welfare workers are investigating the case and are doing everything that can be done to help the lad. It is understood that he came to the Christmas party without mittens of any kind and had no other means to return home other than walking in the bitter cold.—Bemidji Daily Pioneer.

WHEN BUSH PITCHED NO HIT, NO RUN GAME

FEATURE GAME OF AUGUST 26, 1916, REPRODUCED

BUSH WITH ATHLETICS PLAYED CLEVELAND AT PHILADELPHIA

One of the feature games of former years was Joe Bush's no hit game against the Indians played August 26, 1916, at Philadelphia. Bush, at that time with the Athletics, allowed only one man to reach first base, issuing a pass.

At Philadelphia, Aug. 26, 1916.—"Bullet Joe" Bush was in excellent form and turned back the invaders from Cleveland without a hit. Graney, the first man to face Bush, drew a pass and he was the only Indian player to reach first base. Seven of the Cleveland athletes were turned back on strikes. It was quite a reverse to the Cleveland hitters, who on the previous day in a double header had made twenty-seven hits for twenty-three runs against the very same club. The score:

PIERZ MAIL CARRIER TO USE SNOWMOBILE

Nick Karst has purchased a "Snowmobile" which he has been driving on the streets in town last week. It is a Ford truck with a pair of runners in front instead of wheels and is propelled by four wheels, and a tank chain contrivance on the rear. It seems to be able to make its way over drifted roads with ease and appears to be a very practical machine. Nick intends to use the snowmobile on his mail route when it will be difficult to use his car.—Pierz Journal.

WADENA INDEPENDENTS PILED UP BIG LEAD IN FIRST HALF OF GAME

RADIOLAS PLAYED GAMESLY, L. ERICSSON BEING ITS STAR

The Wadena Independent basketball team scored a 41 to 19 victory over the Brainerd Radiolas on Friday evening by piling up a big lead in the first half of the game, which carried them through a stormy session in the last half to a triumph.

The Radiolas fought hard throughout the entire game to overcome their opponents, but never at any time was Brainerd within striking distance.

The game was fast throughout every quarter, and resembled a game of pull-away. Very few fouls were called on either side.

The star for Brainerd was L. Ericsson, who did the scoring for his team, and whose defense work was excellent. The Radiolas seemed weak on their basket shooting and could have won their game on the short shots they missed.

Wadena stars were Marquardt and Blaha. On offensive work together these two scored thirty points.

The Radiolas will play a return game with Wadena the latter part of January. Tentative games to be played this week by the Radiolas are with Pequot and Park Rapids, although no definite dates have been arranged.

The summary of Friday's game is as follows:

SAUK CENTRE CATHOLIC CHURCH PREY OF FLAMES

Our Lady of the Angels church, Irish Catholic church at Sauk Centre, was totally destroyed by fire. The blaze is believed to have started from an overheated or defective furnace. Midnight and early morning Christmas masses were held in the church and the large congregation which had attended the high mass at 10 o'clock had just left the church when the blaze was discovered. Within an hour the structure was completely destroyed.

The building was erected 41 years ago of frame construction and the loss is believed to be in the neighborhood of $20,000. Insurance amounting to $6,000 was carried—$4,500 on the building and $1,500 on the contents. Rev. John A. Ferron was the pastor and the church served about 90 families.

The parish house near the church caught fire several times and considerable damage was done although the building was not destroyed.

Other nearby residences were slightly damaged by fire.

According to advices from Sauk Centre a rumor is current on the street here today that an attempt will be made to consolidate the Irish Catholic parish with that of the German Catholic in Sauk Centre and Rev. Ferron is said to be in St. Cloud today consulting with Bishop Busch concerning such a move. Plans for rebuilding the burned structure are being held in abeyance until the outcome of this attempt is learned.

It is said the parish has about $20,000, including the insurance money, as a nucleus of a building fund at the present time.

TENNIS SETTLEMENT FAIR, SAYS FARRELL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 29.—Common sense and good sportsmanship brought about the settlement of the extended controversy between William T. Tilden and the United States Lawn Tennis Association and it offered a good example that might be followed in the adjustment of difficulties that may arise in other sports.

Tilden contended that he was right in refusing to accept the opinion of the association in declaring that he was a professional for making money as a newspaper writer. The Association claimed it was right in forming the opinion that writing for newspapers constituted a violation of the amateur rule.

From a strictly neutral standpoint, both sides were right and the two factions were sincere enough to hold out until it seemed that the continuation of a controversy, which the public considered as rather trivial, would result in unlimited damage to an organization and a game that had been built up in the United States by years of untiring effort.

The association then made a wise move by suggesting that a committee of three "outsiders" be called in to decide which faction was right and Tilden's defenders agreed to it. The same wisdom behind the idea was carried out in selecting as the committee of outsiders in the jury box such nationally known authorities as Senator George Wharton Pepper, Grantland Rice and Devereux Milburn.

How long would some of the foolish quarrels of organized baseball last if a committee of such authorities were called in to pass judgment on the disagreements of baseball?

This special committee called in to consider the case with representatives of the two tennis factions decided that Tilden was partially right and that the Association was partly right. They suggested a compromise with an entirely new definition of the amateur rule that would support the main points of the Association's stand for clean tennis and which would also support Tilden's contention regarding the individual personal liberties of a player.

The new amateur rule was drawn and it was accepted. The legal genius of Senator Pepper put the rule in language that was a defeat for neither faction, and was only a sportsmanlike deference to the justice of the other side's main points of contention.

Tilden, as a result of the rule, can continue to write, but he cannot use any of his titles under his name and he cannot actually cover any tournaments in which he is entered as a player.

BUSH WITH ATHLETICS PLAYED CLEVELAND AT PHILADELPHIA

One of the feature games of former years was Joe Bush's no hit game against the Indians played August 26, 1916, at Philadelphia. Bush, at that time with the Athletics, allowed only one man to reach first base, issuing a pass.

At Philadelphia, Aug. 26, 1916.—"Bullet Joe" Bush was in excellent form and turned back the invaders from Cleveland without a hit. Graney, the first man to face Bush, drew a pass and he was the only Indian player to reach first base. Seven of the Cleveland athletes were turned back on strikes. It was quite a reverse to the Cleveland hitters, who on the previous day in a double header had made twenty-seven hits for twenty-three runs against the very same club. The score:
